YOUR PPE PARTNER

Everything is better when you have a partner. An experienced mentor willing to guide you through the ever changing world of manufacturing, government regulations and food safety culture. A company focused not only on the challenges that face your business today, but the potential pitfalls of tomorrow as well. Someone willing to search the world to bring products right to your doorstep.

Amerisan is the trusted partner food processors can count on to help ensure compliance, as well as timely delivery of the right products for your specific needs. As the leaders in consultation and implementation, food safety isn't just our main concern...it's our only focus.

Our comprehensive selection of superior PPE products shown in this catalog are the primary items our customers keep coming back for. Many of these items originate from the voices of our customers looking for products to fit their specific needs and requirements as well as to help lower their risks of foreign particle contamination, cross contamination and strengthen their compliance and food safety efforts.

Claw Cover™ C6 Cut Resistant 10 Gauge Glove

Description: The C6 is the industry's first and only 10 gauge glove to achieve 4500+ grams of cut resistance! This medium weight Claw Cover™ style is constructed using a blend of high-performance synthetic fibers and stainless steel, which give this product an extremely high ANSI level 5 cut protection rating. The unique construction of yarns employed in this product allows the gloves to be exposed to the harshest laundry cycles over and over again, with little to no effect on the protection properties. Constructed according to FDA 21CFR 177.2800, Claw Cover™ gloves are approved for direct food contact.

PPE METAL DETECTABLE

METAL DETECTABLE PPE

Controlling hair contamination is a top hygiene priority for food producers and is a requirement according to BRC Issue 8 Clause 7.4.2. Hairnets, mob caps and other PPE can accidentally or deliberately cause their own foreign body contamination by becoming a contaminant themselves!

Our detectable PPE features either metal clasps or aluminum foil strips. Both give strong metal detector readings, which subject to correct configuration will cause an automatic product rejection and/or alert the production team to the problem.

BRC Issue 8 Clause 7.4.2

Protective clothing shall be available that:

- Is provided in sufficient numbers for each employee.
- Is of suitable design to prevent contamination of the product.
- Fully contains all scalp hair to prevent product contamination.
- Includes beard nets/covers and mustaches required to prevent product contamination.

STOCK·X

CLIENT ASSISTED INVENTORY

Save time and money with Stock-X

There are critical products used in food production that, if depleted, can lead to expensive line shut downs and lost production. Amerisan understands the need to maintain these crucial inventory levels and works hand in hand with clients to ensure that they are stocked with the right amount of product on time every time. 80% of our customers choose the Stock-X program for the reasons shown below and have proven cost savings of up to 25% due to more efficient handling of consumable inventory supplies.

Customer Testimonial

"In 2013 we underwent the exercise of doing a national tender for all our supplies. Our goal was to pick someone that could supply multiple locations nationally, someone that knew the food industry and provide new and innovative products and solutions all at great value. AMERISAN succeeded in satisfying our needs in all these areas, and that is why we went with them."

RECIRCLE PROGRAM

RECIRCLE

Recircle Recycling Program

AMERISAN's Recircle program is changing the way we impact the planet and allows corporations to take positive steps in advancing their environmental responsibility.

Studies show that roughly 129 BILLION single-use face masks are being used every single month. Single use masks, and other PPE such as bouffant covers and beard covers are made from polypropylene plastic. These items can take as long as 450 years to decompose. There is no eco-friendly way to dispose of this plastic so it ends up in our oceans and landfills causing damage to wild-life and our lives.

AMERISAN's Recircle program takes what was once ocean or landfill bound PPE and recycles it into other non-food grade products that can be used in other parts of your business. AMERISAN's Recircle program makes it simple for companies to join the cause.

Recycling plastic is the right environmentally friendly thing to do.

FOOD SAFETY CULTURE

Who is responsible for Food Safety?

We ALL are!

Food safety culture is about the way associates take ownership of not only doing the right things but also doing things right. Having a solid food safety culture starts from the top and is supported by strong policies, practices, thorough SOP's (Standard Operating Procedures) and SSOP's (Sanitation Standard Operating Procedures), training and coaching. All these things can be supported and promoted through the use of strong visual communication tools like Amerisan's customizable Visual Management, Workplace Signage and 5S Shadow Boards.
